FOR A STARS-AND-STRIPES MARTINI...

Bourbon from London would be weird. But American-made gin? Delightful. Pictured from left: North Shore Distillery Distiller's Gin No. 6 ($28, northshoredistillery.com) is a floral-toned gin from suburban Chicago. Bluecoat American Dry Gin ($28, bluecoatgin.com), from Philly, has spicier notes. DH Krahn ($28, dhkrahn.com), the smoothest of the three, began as a business-school project by two Cornell students. A+.
